

R. Bundy

Dissolved cobalt concentrations are significantly higher (>400% increase) on the shelf in 2015 compared to 2009, with good agreement in deep waters between sampling years

Could changes over time in metal inputs from the shelf be the reason for this increase? Is this trend observed in other metals?